BATTLESHIP SUNK

Fierce Naval Engagements Outside Port Arthur

ADMIRAL MAKAROFF DROWNED

The Fighting Admiral of Russia Dies Like a Soldier and a Patriot Leading a Naval Sortie Against the Enemy

St. Petersburg, April 13.—It is estimated that from six to seven hundred men perished when the Petropavlovsk sank.

St. Petersburg, April 13.—5:00 p.m.—It is officially announced that Vice-Admiral Makaroff was drowned at the time of the sinking of the battleship Petropavlovsk.

Japs Attacked Port Arthur

Chefoo, April 13.—A private despatch received here from Port Arthur says the Japanese attacked that place at daylight today and that the Russian fleet, under Vice Admiral Makaroff and assisted by the fire of the forts, drove the enemy off.

The despatch also adds that the town was not damaged.

The effect of the bombardment of the forts and fleet was not mentioned.

Four Officers Escaped

St. Petersburg, April 13.—1:25 p.m.—Another report is to the effect that the telegram which Grand Duke Vladimir received was from Grand Duke Boris and Grand Duke Cyril, announcing that the Petropavlovsk, of which Cyril was first officer, had been blown up by striking a Russian mine, four officers escaping.

The Grand Duke Cyril's wound was said to be slight.

The telegram, according to this report, did not mention the losses sustained by the crew.

Struck a Mine

St. Petersburg, April 13.—An official telegram received here confirms the report that the battleship Petropavlovsk has been sunk off Port Arthur and that only four officers were saved, among them being the Grand Duke Cyril, who was wounded.

It is reported that the battleship Petropavlovsk, instead of being sunk by a mine, was torpedoed by the Japanese in a battle off Port Arthur.

Great consternation prevails in St. Petersburg over the loss of Admiral Makaroff and the battleship and crew.

Vice Admiral Makaroff and six hundred of a crew were killed and drowned at Port Arthur, while on board the battleship Petropavlovsk, which is reported to have struck a mine.

Chased the Bayan

Wei Hei Wei, April 13.—His Majesty's gunboat the Espiegle, which has arrived here from Newchwang, reports that at forty-five minutes past five this morning, she sighted five Japanese warships engaging the Russian cruiser Bayan, which was making for Port Arthur from the direction of the Yalu river.

The Asakami and another cruiser with three funnels came out of Port Arthur in the direction of the Yalu river to assist the Bayan. At forty-five minutes past six the Russians got under the cover of the forts, but the Bayan was evidently damaged as quantities of steam were seen coming from her.

At five minutes past eight the Japanese ships fired from the heavy guns upon the forts, but the latter did not reply.

In fifteen minutes the Japanese retreated towards the east.

Details of the Engagement

Rome, April 13.—A Chefoo despatch to the Agency Liberal says: "Makaroff's squadron made a sortie today while the entire squadron of the Japanese was concealed behind the Mikoto Islands. They immediately attacked the Russians."

Discovering the trap, Admiral Makaroff retreated.

The Japanese then cut off his retreat, and Makaroff was forced to fight against tremendous odds.

The Petropavlovsk was surrounded by torpedo boats and five torpedoes struck the battleship. It was blown up.

All the Russian ships were damaged.

Port Arthur Fleet Crippled

St. Petersburg, April 13.—Admiral Prince Outomski, who is now in charge of the fleet at Port Arthur, is able to go to sea with four battle ships, it is thought, but it is not certain he can do so. Vice Admiral Togo could again bring against him a greatly superior fleet. It is pointed out that all the Japanese Admiral used now do is to be outside Port Arthur, and transports can pass with absolute impunity.

Cyrl's Fate in Doubt

St. Petersburg, April 13.—According to later reports Grand Duke Cyril was more seriously injured than at first believed. He has been removed to a hospital at Port Arthur for treatment. Despite the statements in the dispatches the Grand Dukeless Vladimir believes that her son is dead, saying: "Everybody has been killed, and I cannot believe that Cyril was saved."

Storm Centre

Newchwang, April 13.—There are rumors tonight that a terrific battle is going on in the harbor of Port Arthur, the Japanese using their torpedo boat destroyers against the Russian warships. This does not come from Port Arthur, but from Dalny, several miles away from the alleged scene of conflict.

POWDER EXPLODED

THIRTY MEN KILLED

Explosion of Powder on a U. S. Man of War Works Awful Havoc at Pensacola, Florida.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Pensacola, Fla., April 13.—By the explosion of two thousand pounds of powder in the 12-inch turret handling room of the United States battleship Missouri yesterday, Captain W. S. Cowles, commanding, and 29 men were instantly killed and five injured, of whom two will die.

The Missouri was on the large range with the Texas and Brooklyn at practice about noon, when the charge of powder in the 12-inch gun ignited from gas, exploded, and dropping below ignited four charges of powder in the handling room and all exploded.

Only one man of the entire turret and handling crew survives. But for the prompt and effective work of Captain Cowles in blocking the handling room and magazine with water, one of the magazines would have exploded and the ship would have been destroyed.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

Ottawa Correspondence:

The leader of the opposition was in excellent form in replying to the Premier, and occupied nearly four hours in placing his views before the House and country. He had had six months in which to consider the question in all its bearings, and the amended terms had been in his hands for some weeks; therefore he had every opportunity to familiarize himself with his subject in every detail. It is only fair to say that his speech was clever and well delivered, and, therefore, in view of the opportunities that he had for his preparation, it may be considered his last and best say on the question of a Canadian transcontinental railway. As a criticism it was excellent, but as a declaration of policy, it was nothing.

He took up the original contract, and the amendments, the speech of the Premier, of the Hon. Mr. Blair and others, section by section, and line by line. He set one over against another and added his own views, amended to date, in order to direct the government's project. But after all was said and done he had not touched in any way the great and leading features of the government's transcontinental railway project. He had not shown wherein they failed, or where they succeeded, or did he show that those objects were to be obtained. Rather his effort was to show that the public mind from the great purpose to be served and mix it up with a mass of details of lesser importance. He admitted the transportation needs of the Dominion, and he had twenty suggestions as to how the C.P.R. might be met in part, but he had nothing to substitute for the government's clear-cut and definite proposal to give Canada a competing transcontinental railway, opening up 5,000 miles of new territory, running on the lowest possible grades, constructed without over-capitalization, and effectively under government control as to rates.

His alternative proposal of last year, which has aroused such intense admiration on the part of the Winnipeg Telegram, has apparently died a natural death, for in all his four hours' speech, he did not allude to it. Instead of government ownership in the east and company ownership in the West, as he suggested last year, in so far as he made any actual suggestion it was to have the C.P.R. in control in the east and build government lines in the west.

He closed his speech by moving an amendment nearly a column in length, in which he covered the whole question of transportation for the Dominion, as he understands it; and in pointing out the objects which he considered should be kept constantly in view: (a) to the extension of the government system of railways; (b) control of railway rates in return for assistance; (c) improvement of canal, lake routes and ports; (d) perfecting a system of elevator and terminal facilities; (e) securing common haulage or running facilities over railways; but not a word about the immediate construction of a competing transcontinental railway, such as Canada, and especially the west, must have if it is ever to reach the limit of its development.

A feature of the question which seemed to agitate him a great deal, was the possibility of the Canadian Pacific which would be created by the construction of the Western division of the transcontinental railway being carried by the Grand Trunk to Portland. It is remarkable that this criticism of the government scheme should come from a member from the maritime provinces and be put forward as an objection by those provinces to that scheme. At present all the traffic that the Grand Trunk Company gets is carried to Portland. Nothing has ever been done by the Conservative party while in power, or suggested by it when out of power, to divert this traffic through Canadian territory and Canadian ports. When the present government for the purpose of securing as much western traffic as possible for the Canadian maritime ports secured the extension of the Intercolonial to Montreal, they were opposed most bitterly by this same Conservative party. Now when an essential feature of the new transcontinental railway is that it shall in the first place be able, because of its short and direct route, and in the next place be required, to carry freight to the maritime province ports, it is strange that this scheme should be objected to by representatives of those ports because it does not do enough for them.

It is satisfactory to know from the figures presented by Mr. Borden that the total possible liability of the country in respect of this transcontinental railway with bonds at par is $150,000,000. The figure has been varied so much by different calculators at different times, at the hands of Mr. Osler running up to $250,000,000 last year, that it is at least measurably satisfactory to know that there is a limit. He also figures that the liability of the Grand Trunk Co. is only $14,500,000. This is probably as wide of the mark as his estimate of the liability of the country. But taking his figures as he gives them they form a basis of calculation which produces a very different result from the impression which his words convey. The company's liability of $14,500,000 of which he speaks is on account of the road bed and security deposit. To this must be added at least $15,000,000 more for rolling stock which the company is compelled to supply, or $30,000,000 instead of only $14,500,000, supplied by the company. And this $30,000,000 is practically security given by the company that the government will not have to pay interest on $140,000,000 of the sum for which he says it is liable. If the company relieves the government from payment of interest on this sum, the company controls the road. If the company does not relieves the government from payment of this interest, the government controls the road; and the company absolutely loses $20,000,000 invested in rolling stock, besides whatever other investment it has made beyond 25 per cent of the cost of construction.

If the government has to pay it gets value for every dollar which it has invested or become responsible for. If the company cannot fulfill its agreement it loses twenty million dollars worth of rolling stock. The leader of the Conservative party believes the lack of security for the government for compelling the company to carry out its bargain, complaining of over-capitalization, and finding fault because the principle of government ownership has not been more fully recognized, is a spectacle to make people rub their eyes with the C.P.R. bargain made by that party and its consequences still in evidence. The more so when the only possible result of the opposition offered to the present bargain, and its evident and only object is and must be, to keep that company in undisputed possession of the field, and emphasize and increase in every way the disadvantage to the country of the bargain made with that company twenty years ago.

AN EASTER CONCERT

On Friday evening of last week a basket social was held in the Belmont schoolhouse for the Sunday school. Although the roads were in a deplorable condition, the school was well filled by both old and young. Mr. Hayes filled the chair in a pleasing manner. A number of recitations, dialogues and songs were very well given by the Sunday school pupils, under Miss Mitchell's management. A song and recitation by Mr. Gibson were well received. Also a song by Mr. Carruthers and a violin solo by Mr. Gold. Mr. Bailey's brief address on the Sunday School was practical and to the point. During intermission the toothsome contents of the baskets were done justice, accompanied by tea and coffee, showing that culinary skill was not a lost art among the ladies of Belmont. A collection of $650 was taken up. After a vote of thanks had been tendered the outside talent for their assistance, the program was brought to a close by singing the national anthem. All went home feeling that an Easter social for the Sunday school would bear repeating.

TOWN COUNCIL

The town council held an adjourned meeting in the council chamber yesterday afternoon, Mayor Short presiding and Councillors May, Picard and Grierson being in attendance.

G. Gilmour wrote requesting a rebate of a sum paid by him for water, claiming that the water arrangement was installed under an erroneous understanding. The council did not see their way clear to grant the request. The resignation of Const. Brunelle was accepted and the application of Mr. Tisdury for the position was accepted.

The secretary of the fire brigade football team, wrote asking that the team be allowed to practice on the market square. The request was granted on condition that the team do not interfere with the purposes of the market.

A small office desk belonging to Mr. Ashbridge was purchased for use in the municipal offices.

The secretary of the fire brigade wrote thanking the council for the advance in the grant to the brigade and in the scale of payment for service.

A letter from the chief and secretary of the brigade pointed out the necessity of having public buildings in town properly arranged for exit in case of fire. The matter was left with the city solicitor and engineer to draft a by-law covering the case.

The Chief of Police was instructed to have the rubbish removed from the hill along College avenue.

The secretary was instructed to inform the Belleville Business College that the town was not prepared to offer any special inducements for the establishment of a branch here.

The account of Mr. Higgar for preparing copies of the city charter was laid over until next meeting.

A communication from the Great West Saddlery Company, asking the privilege of tendering on the belting ordered for the power house, was laid.

J. Hostyn asked that a crossing be built from the sidewalk on First street to his hotel. He was informed that the council was now considering a petition which might cover the case.

Dr. Stuart Wade wrote thanking the council for their grant to the Mechanics Institute.

W. S. Weeks on behalf of the Strauss Piano Company, requested a bonus of $2,500 from the council toward the enterprise. The request was referred to the finance committee.

A petition signed by residents of Ross flat for a four-foot sidewalk, was left with the engineer, to report on it.

A petition asking for the construction of a sidewalk from Jasper avenue north along Seventh street to Peace avenue, thence west to Ninth street, thence north to McKenzie avenue and east to First street, was referred to the Board of Works. The same action was taken regarding a petition for a sidewalk along First street from Kinistone avenue to the eastern town boundary.

The engineer reported that measures had been taken for the temporary draining of Mr. Easton's property; that the open ditch along McKay avenue, should not be filled at present and that the coal outside the shed at the power station was being used and instructions given that no more coal should be left out doors. He further reported that the cost of delivering gravel from the river to the sedimentation basin would be 75c per yard. This report was left with the Board of Works.

The proposal to rent a small building on First street east for an engineer's office was accepted. The council adjourned until this evening.

LOCAL

The season for ducks closes on May 15th.

The first train for nine days reached Yorkton on Good Friday.

The mercury registered 70 above yesterday afternoon at the meteorological station.

B. T. Hayke leaves tomorrow for his farm at Vegreville to begin operations for the summer.

A. Driscoll, D.L.S., is erecting a residence opposite the Lands office on Victoria avenue.

Chester B. Martin, B.A., of the University of New Brunswick, was the first Canadian to capture a Rhodes scholarship.

Yesterday the ice jam below Fraser's mill gave way, and the ice cleared out rapidly, the river being comparatively free in the afternoon.

Dr. Jamieson left today for Toronto and Montreal. He expects to be away about three weeks. During his absence Dr. Strong will take charge of his practice.

A meeting to organize a baseball team is being arranged for tomorrow evening. The place and date will be announced tomorrow and it is desirable that all lovers of the game be present.

Miss Miriam Green, A.T.C.M., who is a first-class honor graduate of Toronto Conservatory of Music and a final year undergraduate of Trinity university, has opened a studio on Fifth street.

C. C. Fairchild, D. L. S., came in a few days since, and is staying at the Alberta, preparing to go north. He will be engaged in work in the Peace river district during the summer.

Yorkton Enterprise: Eighteen thousand four hundred dollars was the price paid last week for an improved farm of 640 acres adjoining Yorkton. The seller was Mr. Levi Beck and the purchasers Messrs. R. Housley, Peter Housley and Robert Sinclair.

Probs: Yesterday was summerlike in Alberta and Assiniboia, while cooler temperature prevailed in Manitoba. A disturbance is now sweeping across Dakota and local snowfalls are looked for in Manitoba. Mild, but somewhat cooler weather is likely in the Territories.

M. B. Weeks, D. L. S., is at the Alberta. He is preparing to go down the river and begin survey work for the summer in the townsships lying west of the Barr colony. He will probably get away on Monday, intending to float down by boat to the mouth of Moose creek.

Fisheries inspectors in several parts of the district are taking action against parties dumping sawdust and other rubbish in streams and lakes, such action being in contravention of the fisheries regulations. Action has already been taken against several parties at Ponoka, and another case at Paken is being investigated.

During the past ten days the water mains on Namayo and Queens avenues, together with several service pipes, have been thawed out by electricity. The total cost for the work was $45. Mr. Ormsby, of the lighting system, estimates that had excavating been done and the pipes thawed in the old manner, the cost would have been $200 or more.

P. Talbot, M.L.A., of Lacombe, Liberal candidate in the Federal constituency of Strathcona, was in town yesterday. Though matters political are somewhat quiet at present, Mr. Talbot's candidature has the most promising prospects, assurances of support coming from every part of the riding.

The council of Municipal District No. 27-T-4 met at Fair View hotel, Spruce Grove, on Saturday, April 9th. When the regular routine of organization of council was carried out and Dan Brox was elected chairman and W. Bristow of Spruce Grove, was appointed secretary and treasurer. After striking the rate of taxation for the district, the council adjourned to meet again at St. Albert on June 1st next, when the matter of road improvement will be considered.

Among the shop windows now conspicuous with spring decorations, McDougall & Second have a grocery window rather better than the average. The plan is a miniature representation of a farm house with a flower garden in front. The garden is represented as newly sown, the empty packages marking off the varieties. A suitable background sets off the whole, a few early spring birds on the branches of the yet leafless tree. A young shooter with his bow and arrow, and sitting on a stump near by, the sapient bird looks on with approval.
